Property Description

This property is inspired by the essence of Balinese homes, with its distinct living spaces spread across multiple pavilions. The main living area features an open-plan kitchen, dining, and lounge space adorned with soaring ceilings crafted from exotic wood. Floor-to-ceiling glass walls invite the lush tropical garden inside, creating a seamless harmony between nature and architecture. A second pavilion houses a spacious bedroom and a refined bathroom, with an adjoining room currently serving as an artist's studio—a versatile space that could easily be transformed into an additional bedroom, a private gym, or anything your imagination desires. This pavilion also includes another bedroom with its own en-suite bathroom, all under the same roof. Meanwhile, a separate structure could stand as the spiritual heart of the estate, echoing the revered Balinese temple tradition. Outdoors, the magic continues.
